

Cinemas Gallery Place, 701 Seventh St. NW. Visit <http://www.filmfestdc.org> or call 800-955-5566.

-- Tuesday Night Milonga at Eighteenth Street Lounge. "Even though I dance almost five days a week, there is nothing more relaxing than a night out dancing with my friends," says Singh. He's a student and fan of Victoria Wood and Isaac Oboka's weekly tango "crash course" and party (a.k.a. milonga). $10 for the class; $10 for milonga. Tuesdays at 8 p.m. 18 and older. Eighteenth Street Lounge, 1212 18th St. NW. 202-277-4073 or <http://www.tangomercurio.org>.

Sponsored Links

Breaking News Stock: MNDP

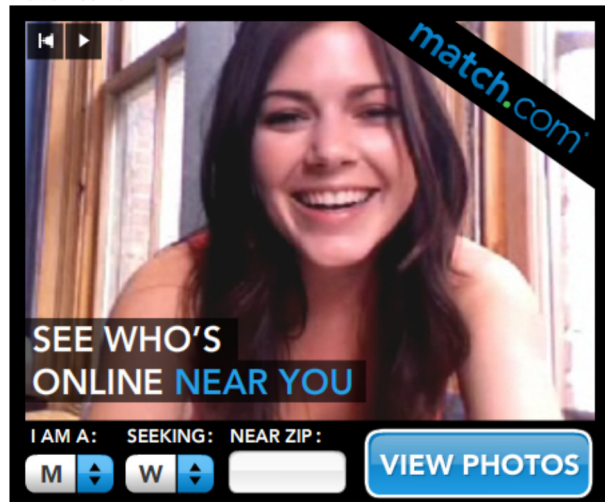

MNDP News Alert - Stock Source! 1000% potential gain! - Analyst Report www.stocksource.us/

Penny Stock Gaining 5000%

Sign up for Free to receive alerts about the next stock to jump 5000% www.PennyStockGains.com

Buy a link here

Advertisement

Northern Virginia

The Scene A "Dance Invasion"

Beginning Wednesday, Friends of the Torpedo Factory hosts two nights of evening-length performances that are both stimulating for the soul and easy on the pocketbook (they're free). First up, on Wednesday, is Jane Franklin Dance, which will present bits of its works including "Incidence." Thursday, BosmaDance takes over the space to preview "Eternal Return," a new collaboration with visual artist

Rosemary Feit Covey. Free. Wednesday at 7 p.m., Thursday at 7:30 p.m. Torpedo Factory Art Center, 105 N. Union St., Alexandria. 703-838-4565 or <http://www.torpedofactory.org>.

The District

Concert Titus Andronicus

Tonight at the Black Cat, catch country punks Lucero, a band that dishes Americana with a Springsteen-ish edge. But it's opener Titus Andronicus that has our attention of late: The New Jersey punks recall the dirty, lo-fi 1970s noise of the Sex Pistols and plain old liberation (it's a sound we're hearing a lot these days, from bands such as Times New Viking and the Black Lips). $14. 8 p.m. 1811 14th St. NW. 202-667-4490.

Digg

submit

Share

More ways to share this Article...

Reddit

Twitter

myspace

del.icio.us

NewsTrust

Stumble It!

Most Viewed Print Edition Articles